

Packing and Shipping

Each warehouse has a separate area for packing and shipping. Proper ESD protective packaging and labeling is prepared in accordance with the Arrow packaging and labeling standards.

A computer-controlled order consolidation process is used before the product is sent to packing. Bar code scan ensure that all picks are properly consolidated before being sent to the predetermined packing stations. The computer system will not allow the order to be processed unless a second bar code scan is performed ensuring that all items are present and that there is no mixing of items in the order. Military products are packaged with proper documentation.
